CHAIRPERSON'S FORWARD

The year 2020 was very remarkable for the global perspective which includes also Bangladesh. Firstly: the global pandemic COVID - 19 still existed and as of the other countries of the world, Bangladesh also passed a large amount of time under 'Lockdown' which hampered the normal lives of the mass people; Secondly: as a health-based organization, we were able to keep continue our services for the beneficiaries; BWCH never 'shut-down' it's operations i.e. providing SRHR services during this pandemic situation.; Thirdly: the Development Partners & donor communities kept trust on BWHC's vision & mission and BWHC was able to establish few new partnerships with a few development partners; Fourthly: under a joint venture, BWHC was able to restart the HIV prevention activities in the brothels in three districts; Last but not the least, BWHC took initiatives to stand beside the most marginalized community i.e. the older persons along with their family members, the Tea Garden Workers and ethnic minority communities through providing 'Food supports & COVID - 19 Kits' in it's working areas.

I must acknowledge the role and contribution of the stakeholders from a different level, in particular, the community people and the development partners & donor communities. I am thankful to all the members of the general body and staff for carrying out their responsibilities even during this COVID - 19 Pandemic to bring dynamism to the organization and fulfill the community requirement. I would like to express my gratitude to all of its development partners and the government of Bangladesh involved in the results highlighted within the reports.

I wish a COVID - 19 free world at the soonest possible of time!

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

I have the honor in writing this note for Annual Report 2020 of BWHC. This year, the BWHC is celebrating its 40 year's birth anniversaries. During this long-years journey in the area of development field particularly, in the health sector, it has already garnered countrywide recognition - both from the beneficiary and development partner's side as well. Still we feel that as a 'Change Agent', we have a long way to go. I believe that it is the time to learn from the past and resume our journey with a renewed spirit.

Scaling up the health program around the country through especially, the 'Reproductive & Sexual Health Program (RHSP)', the 'Enhancing the access to quality abortion for tea workers, ethnic minority and hard-to-reach population of North-eastern Region (Sylhet division) of Bangladesh', the 'STI and HIV Prevention Service Package for the Brothel Based Sex Workers and their Client Service Package-1 (SP - 1)', the 'Inclusion and Supporting Older Persons in Fighting Covid-19' the 'Medical and Socio-educational Caravans - case of the Coronavirus' and the 'Distribution of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) among Health Workers to Prevent COVID - 19 in Bangladesh' remained a particular highlight of our operations in 2021. Its approaches contributed to improve the health condition of poor and marginalized people particularly, women, adolescents and children and to decrease maternal/infant's mortality and malnutrition and also to fight against GBV and COVID - 19 as well. We served thousands of mothers and children, women and adolescents and older persons and their families to recover and restore in their unwavering lives which directly created positive impact for accomplishing the SDGs.

Addressing its core principle, BWHC was dedicated for protecting and promoting health rights of the poor/ marginalized women through empowerment and mobilizing communities to raise their voice in making the service providers aware and accountable even during the COVID - 19 pandemic.

66,179 women, children and adolescents received services on sexual and reproductive health (SRHR) where 30,65 pregnant women and lactating mothers received ANC and PNC in 2020. 1,899 accessed the safe MR/M and post services and 12,422 children were covered under immunization & vaccination programs and 35,668 received others services from BWHC centers. A number of 16,029 counselling sessions were conducted and among them 727 were referred to other health centers for better management. 200,095 several family planning methods were provided among the clients. A number of 30,543 joined several BCC sessions on SRHR, safe motherhood, consequences of early/child marriage, MHM and other related sexual and reproductive health rights issues.

BWHC, this year, already focused on marginalized groups particularly, the women & children, young women & adolescents of Tea garden, ethnic minorities and hard-to-reach population and will address new challenges for Bangladesh in the coming days especially, on SRHR issue. With an appropriate approach to work collaboratively with other stakeholders to address the issue, BWHC hopes that 2021 will mark another milestone of its innovations dedicated to a comprehensive and enabling environment for promoting the SRHR services and rights of the adolescents and the youths on SRHR issues.

BWHC (established in 1980), is the first organization in the country to start working for establishing Sexual and Reproductive Health Rights (SRHR) for the deprived and underprivileged women and adolescents. It is –

- ✦ a non-government, not for profit voluntary organization;
- ✦ registered with the Directorate of Social Welfare in 1982 and with NGO Affairs Bureau in 1991;
- ✦ affiliated with Directorate of Population Control & Family Planning in 1981;

BWHC evolves under the leadership of eminent development worker and renowned women rights activist Ms. Sandra M. Kabir in April 1980. The birth of BWHC was interesting and historical: in 1978, the US government declared to withdraw financial supports from those organizations who conducted Menstrual Regulation (MR) as part of it's the program. Realizing the impact of this decision and the horrible situation of thousands of poor & underprivileged women of Bangladesh, the BWHC was established for and ensuring their sexual and reproductive health rights particularly, providing initially, ONLY the MR services to women both in urban and rural areas. By 1986, due to increased demand from the communities, other SRH services were made available in it's centers. BWHC has been working for the improvement and uphold the standard of livelihoods of poor, socially disadvantaged, underprivileged, and marginalized women, children and adolescents through health-oriented development interventions, with a prime focus on reproductive health services by undertaking various programs and projects particularly, health service focused projects around the country. It is committed to bringing positive changes in the quality of women's lives by making available reproductive and primary health services as well as other basic social services that enable women to exercise their reproductive and human rights.

With a vision to Equality of Women in a Just Civil Society, the BWHC empowers the marginalized women particularly, the young women and young people, it operates SRHR programs, gender sensitivity, women rights, against social stigmas, etc. BWHC firmly believes that the quality of women's lives is enhanced by emphasizing an inclusive gender approach, community participation, and working in integration and collaboration with government and other relevant organizations. BWHC evolved with a commitment to contribute to Women's health and have a solid track record of implementing health programs in Bangladesh.

To achieve those goals and targets, the BWHC has congregated and developed extensive expertise and experiences in the area of mother and child health care particularly, maternal, neonatal, child health, and nutrition programs through the community-based implementation process. It is specialized in health service delivery and developed its model of service delivery, which is followed by different national and local health-based organizations. Based on more than three decades of experiences in this sector, the BWHC has effectively, established a 'Community-based Treatment & Referral Model' for particularly, treatment of Sexual and Reproductive Health Service, ANC, PNC, Immunization, Primary Health Care, Quality MR, PAC, VCT, and STI/RTI, Family Planning Methods and Community Based Prevention and Health Care Promotion for positive changes to health-seeking behavior through Participatory Learning and Action (PLA) and Participatory Rural Appraisal (PRA). Apart from this, the BWHC has below expertise and specialization related to the health sector:

- ✦ Development and implementation of integrated SRH&R Programs;
- ✦ Implementation of Community Development program through awareness-raising and BCC;
- ✦ Implementation of multi sectoral HIV/AIDS program;
- ✦ Community mobilization and BCC for young people and socially excluded population;
- ✦ Conducting surveys and operational research.

Currently, BWHC operates it's programs and implements several projects in roughly half of the country and has 18 (eighteen) static Health Centers and 60 satellite clinics covering Dhaka, Chittagong, Sylhet, Khulna, and Rajshahi divisions.

REPRODUCTIVE & SEXUAL HEALTH PROGRAM (RSHP)

Women particularly, adolescents around the world face tremendous challenges in meeting their sexual and reproductive health (SRH)¹ needs. Inadequate access to health information and services, as well as inequitable gender norms, contribute to a lack of awareness about puberty, sexuality, and basic human rights that can have serious implications on their health and welfare throughout the rest of their lives. These underlying factors lead to high rates of early pregnancy, sexually transmitted infections (STIs), sexual violence, and early and forced marriage globally.

Women and girls face many barriers to sexual health and reproductive rights²: discrimination, stigma, restrictive behaviors, and entrenched traditional practices. Progress remains slow despite the evidence that these rights can have a transformative effect, not only on individual women, but on families, communities, and national economies.

In the Bangladesh context, the girls and boys are not in a position to exercise their sexual and reproductive health rights openly. They lack reliable and timely information and life skills. This does not only cause considerable stress and avoidable violence and health risks but also is the major cause for the high maternal mortality rates. Girls are married and have children at a too early age and do not practice effective contraception methods due to both lacks of information and unavailability of methods. Their parents and teachers are silent and act more on taboos than on the need to protect their children's health. These taboos are fed by customary traditions and far-reaching gender discrimination.

BWHC believes that a woman must have the ability to control her own body and access the health services she needs - regardless of her sexuality, where she lives, her income level, or her ethnicity - is a fundamental right (which is also acknowledged in the constitution of the People's Republic of Bangladesh). When a young woman knows her sexual and reproductive health rights and can decide for herself when to have sex or to become a mother, and when she is safe from sexual violence - then she is empowered to fully realize her other rights: she can complete her education, get a job, and so on. And we need more girls and young women to be able to realize their full potential.

The BWHC is working toward these goals through initiatives like implementing the Reproductive & Sexual Health Program (RSHP) - a program that aims to empower young people, men, and women to realize their sexual and reproductive health and rights. The RSHP is addressing the causes of unsafe abortion, including decriminalization of abortion and supporting women's rights to safe abortion, as well as supporting the sexual rights of young people including comprehensive sexuality education, among other key issues.

² The WHO defines reproductive rights as follows: Reproductive rights rest on the recognition of the basic right of all couples and individuals to decide freely and responsibly the number, spacing and timing of their children and to have the information and means to do so, and the right to attain the highest standard of sexual and reproductive health. They also include the right of all to make decisions concerning reproduction free of discrimination, coercion and violence.

AWARENESS AND EDUCATION

BWHC observed and celebrated several International and National important days related to its vision and mission to create mass awareness and educate its beneficiaries throughout the country. Below were a few snapshots of these events:

- INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY (08 MARCH)

The theme for International Women's Day (8 March) 2020 is, "I am Generation Equality: Realizing Women's Rights." The theme is aligned with UN Women's new multigenerational campaign, Generation Equality, which marks the 25th anniversary of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action. Adopted in 1995 at the Fourth World Conference on Women in Beijing, China, the Beijing

Platform for Action is recognized as the most progressive roadmap for the empowerment of women and girls, everywhere.

The year 2020 is a pivotal year for advancing gender equality worldwide, as the global community takes stock of progress made for women's rights since the adoption of the Beijing Platform for Action. It will also mark several other galvanizing moments in the gender equality movement: a five-year milestone towards achieving the Sustainable Development Goals; the 20th anniversary of UN Security Council resolution 1325 on women, peace and security; and the 10th anniversary of UN Women's establishment. (Source: United Nations)

BWHC celebrated this important day through its centers in several areas of the country both physically and virtually.

- WORLD HEALTH DAY (07 APRIL)

BWHC along with its all the health centers around the country successfully observed the 'World Health Day-2020' on 7th April 2020. In presence of beneficiaries, community peoples, and other stakeholders including govt. representatives, conducted in-house discussion meeting in its own premises maintaining the COVID - 19 guidelines. In the discussion meetings were held on the theme of this day. The community beneficiaries, change-makers, members of the self-help group, local elites, govt. representatives participated in the discussion meetings. Besides, special services which included free Medical checkups, Blood Grouping, Pregnancy tests, etc. were provided on the occasion of this day.

Apart from this, a discussion meeting was also held in the BWHC head office where all levels of staff members took part in the discussion.

- GLOBAL MENSTRUAL HYGIENE DAY (28 MAY)

Poor menstrual hygiene caused by a lack of education on the issue, persisting taboos and stigma, limited access to hygienic menstrual products and poor sanitation infrastructure undermines the educational opportunities, health and overall social status of women and girls around the world. As a result, millions of women and girls are kept from reaching their full potential.

Menstrual Hygiene Day (MH Day) is a global advocacy platform that brings together the voices and actions of non-profits, government agencies, individuals, the private sector and the media to promote good menstrual health and hygiene (MHH) for all women and girls. More specifically, MH Day:

- breaks the silence, raises awareness and changes negative social norms around MHH, and
- engages decision-makers to increase the political priority and catalyze action for MHH, at global, national and local levels.

MH Day has grown tremendously since its first celebration in 2014. Maintaining the COVID - 19 guidelines, on this day, all of the BWHC centers along with the BWHC head office observed the day arranging rallies and discussion among the local people and also the local government officials joined in the session for making the program more informative & effective.

- INTERNATIONAL SAFE ABORTION DAY (28 SEPTEMBER)

28 September, International Safe Abortion Day, is the annual day of action in support of the right to safe abortion. It has been celebrated since 1990 in Latin America, and since 2011 around the world. Recent years have seen hundreds of activities in dozens of countries across all global regions. National and world leaders have begun to make statements in support of the day, and a growing number of media outlets report national and international events and write articles on the theme.

The past 16+ months have seen both successes and setbacks in the right to safe abortion in the midst of the Covid-19 pandemic. A pandemic puts the need for access to safe abortion into sharp relief, increases the risks of unsafe abortions, and reinforces the need for safe abortion to be available as essential health care. With the poorest and most marginalized women and girls worst affected, the pandemic has restricted access not only to safe abortion but also all other sexual and reproductive healthcare services, including pregnancy and delivery care. Maternal deaths have risen substantially in some places, alongside violence against women. Right-wing governments are showing increasing hostility to women's rights. Progressive sexuality education and anything related to gender are condemned without rhyme or reason.

National and local lockdowns, quarantine, travel bans and closed borders, while necessary for making people safe from Covid-19, have made access to health care of all kinds even more challenging than usual since March 2020. Abortion is time-dependent. Delayed access to safe abortion creates a risk to life and health, as does turning to unsafe abortion in a panic when nothing else is available.

Telemedicine has been proved as a means of providing for many critical health care needs by phone or computer, especially during a pandemic. It is being adopted for a rapidly expanding list of clinical consultations, with delivery of medications through the post or by local pharmacies. Telemedicine for arranging self-managed abortion is a safe solution for many women, both now and after the pandemic. As hospitals and other healthcare facilities are overwhelmed with caring for large numbers of Covid-19 patients, pharmacies have become an even more vital access point for medicines, healthcare services and advice. Some of these changes have emerged as positive developments during the pandemic. They will remain valuable going forward as a way to reduce unsafe abortion. BWHC centers and particularly, the 24/7 provided tremendous support during the whole pandemic.

- INTERNATIONAL DAY OF OLDER PERSON (01 OCTOBER)

BWHC virtually joined the celebration of the IDOP 2020. As of previous years, the BWHC celebrated the International Day of Older Person (IDOP) on 01 October 2020 in collaboration with the Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh and with other

Ministry of Social Welfare, Mr. Mohammad Jainul Bari, Secretary, Ministry of Social Welfare, Mr. Sheikh Rafikul Islam, Director General, Department of Social Services along with around 35 participants from different stakeholders joined the virtual discussion. BWHC Executive Director Mr. Sharif Mostafa Heal also participated in the discussion session.

In the discussion, it was highlighted that the year 2020 marks the 75th Anniversary of the United Nations and the 30th Anniversary of the International Day of Older Persons. This year was also seen an emergence of COVID-19 that caused an upheaval across the world. Considering the higher risks confronted by older persons during the outbreak of pandemics such as COVID-19, the discussants emphasized on development of policy and programmatic interventions targeting towards raising awareness of their special needs. Recognizing older person's contributions to their own health and the multiple roles they play in the preparedness and response phases of current and future pandemics was also discussed. - WORLD AIDS DAY (01 DECEMBER)

Each year on World AIDS Day (December 1) we take time to reflect upon our worldwide response to the HIV/AIDS epidemic by remembering the millions we've lost over the past four decades, celebrating our achievements over the past year, and pledging to work in even more inclusive and innovative ways over the coming year. The theme for World AIDS Day 2020 - Ending the HIV/AIDS Epidemic: Resilience and Impact is especially poignant this year as our HIV community has been newly challenged by, and often led the response to, COVID-19 in communities around the globe. COVID-19 has not only forced us to adapt our response to HIV/AIDS in communities to ensure continuity of services, but also reinforced the urgency of ending the HIV/AIDS epidemic around the world. The theme reminds us of all we can achieve together when we focus on impact by using data to deliver high quality, people-centered HIV prevention and treatment services to those most in need, tackling stigma and discrimination, and empowering communities. It reaffirms the essential role of resilience, which enables individuals and communities to meet the challenge of HIV/AIDS even in times of adversity.

As of previous years, BWHC along with its joint venture partners PIACT Bangladesh and Nari Moitri observed the World AIDS Day together 1st December 2020 in Dhaka with 10 brothels under the project named: "STI and HIV Prevention Service Package for the Brothel Based Sex Workers and their Client Service Package-1 (SP - 1)". On the occasion, Prof. Dr. Md Shamiul Islam, Director, MBDC and Line Director TB-Lep and ASP, Directorate General of Health Services along with other senior govt. officials participated in the celebration in front of High Court and attended a discussion meeting in Shilpakala Academy. Independent auditor's report

OF Bangladesh Woman's Health Coalition (BWHC) Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Bangladesh Woman's Health Coalition (BWHC) (the Organization) which comprises the consolidated statement of financial position for the year ended 31 December 2020, statement of comprehensive income and expenditure and receipts and payments, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Organization for the year ended 31 December 2020, and of its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) and other applicable laws and regulations.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISA). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Organization in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) together with ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Bangladesh, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs and other applicable laws and regulations and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

PrimeGlobal

An Association of Independent Member Firms

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also

- Identify and assess the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on Other Legal and Regularity Requirements

We also report that

- a) We have obtained all the information and explanation which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purpose of our audit and made due verification thereof.
- b) In our opinion, proper books of account as required by law have been kept by management so far as it appeared from our examination of those books; and
- c) The statement of financial position, statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows dealt with by the report are in agreement with the books of account.
